

Why You Need An Attorney For Purchase And Sale Agreements

The real estate industry in New York is very intimidating. While many think they can represent their own interests in the purchase or sale of property, you may need the knowledge of an experienced real estate attorney during that transaction. At the Law Offices of Phil W. Felice PC, we know the real estate industry, from buying and selling property to resolving disputes between landlords and tenants. We provide our clients peace of mind when signing their purchase and sale agreement, protecting you and your investment.

Fighting For Fair Terms In Your Contract

Real estate contracts can be lengthy and complicated. You could easily get lost among the legal terms and conditions of your purchase. We will work through your whole agreement, helping you understand every aspect and negotiating the best terms for you.

While we examine your agreement, we can also identify opportunities for you to save money. Some terms may require more financial burden on you in the future, and others may leave you susceptible to costly conflicts down the road. The cost of an attorney today can save you money in the long-term, as well as mitigate any disputes before they arise.
